Review Process

All articles submitted to HarMArchive will undergo anonymous peer review by two reviewers. As such, authors must place their names and contact information on a separate page. Additionally, references to the author's previous works should be avoided in the initial submission; these may be included after the review process is completed.